Mission Statement

Embracing Your Essence has you be seen as our most authentic, beautiful self. What you wear matters. Everyone deserves to be confident, approachable and attractive. Fashion is a look, not an age, size, name brand or price tag. Through my six-week Inspire Your Style Academy people discover their element and learn how to shop where they are the masterpiece and their inspiring style, aligned with their element becomes the frame that has them be seen, heard and valued.

Ideal Audience

Entrepreneurs and professionals, speakers, coaches, authors who want to elevate their image.

Patsy Sanders,

International Image Stylist coach & Master Hairstylist and Speaker, is known as the total transformation specialist. Her clients' images reveal who they truly are from head to toe and from the inside out by teaching the unknown secrets of how to align with their essence.

How you feel in your clothes is as important as how you look in your clothes! What you wear affects your income, whether you get that job/client, how easily you connect with others, your ability to attract an ideal partner, and even how you perceive yourself.

Living in her element as a Fire has equally transformed her experience of showing up authentically in the world. She confidently walks through life graciously accepting compliments no matter what she is wearing. Patsy is on a mission to help other women discover the joy of living in harmony with their true authenticity by finding their own unique style through the element typing system!
